

Congratulations,

GirlsScript Summer Of Code is proud to announce that you have been selected as mentor for the program.

We are glad to have you on board as a mentor in our event. So let's make this the best of our times and please do not forget to join us on slack.

Details for the projects will be released soon. All your queries will be answered on slack regarding the same so kindly stay active.

We hope that you will be actively involved in helping the participants in their open source journey. Hope that you have great time during the SoC.

Best of luck for the event.

Regards,
GirlsScript India
